Family Caregiver Alliance's (FCA) offers publications, including Fact Sheets, Newsletters, Research Studies, Reading Lists and other materials, in addition to their expertise in developing innovative services for families and professional care providers.

FCA conducts research , assists organizations in all parts of the nation to establish new programs for caregivers, and helps government agencies to develop legislation and determine resources needed for the future.

Caregiver workshops, state-of-the-art research presentations, professional training and public policy conferences are a critical element of FCA's commitment to keeping caregivers informed, and the public aware, of the many facets of long-term care.

The Internet offers an unprecedented opportunity to reinvent social services. The award-winning FCA website offers families, professionals, policy makers and the media information on demand on a wide range of caregiver issues, services and support.

Family Caregiver Alliance was the first community-based nonprofit organization in the country to address the needs of families and friends providing long-term care at home.

FCA is a public voice for caregivers, illuminating the daily challenges they face, offering them the assistance they so desperately need and deserve, and championing their cause through education, services, research and advocacy.
