The Alzheimer's Association is committed to helping family caregivers improve their knowledge and skills and deliver better care to individuals with dementia and their families. The family orientation sessions for families of recently diagnosed individuals are available each month. Orientations cover a variety of information including an overview of Alzheimer's disease, first steps to take after receiving a diagnosis and helpful community resources. All orientations are free but registration is required. The group may meet by phone or online.

Branch office is located in Williamsburg, Virginia.
