Wendt Center staff offers a Training and Education Program which includes workshops, conferences and other educational forums on a variety of topics related to loss, bereavement and trauma.

The Wendt Center offers education presentation to academic and religious institutions, senior centers, civic groups, employee assistance programs, and other organizations. Frequently requested topics include: The Tasks of Grieving, Children and Loss, Coping with Grief During the Holidays, and Helping the Grieving Employee. These are interactive presentations encouraging participation on the part of the attendees. The presentations are effective for groups whose members may have recently experienced loss, or for groups simply interested in knowing how to support someone when a death has occurred.
