Use the Alzheimer's Association Community Resource Finder to search a current list of licensed assisted living residences, nursing homes and other types of senior housing. You can also customize your search by geographic criteria, name of residence, housing type, license type, availability and care services, including the level of dementia care offered.

The Resource Finder also covers the categories of medical care, services (e.g., adult day programs, elder law attorneys, etc.), and the Alzheimer's Association of education programs, support groups, early stage programs, and events.

Detailed facility information is self-reported by each facility and is not verified. The information provided by a facility does not imply endorsement by the Alzheimer's Association.
