Roman Eagle Rehabilitation and Health Care offers rehabilitative services.

Professional physical therapists, occupational therapists, and speech pathologists work very closely with the nursing and activities staff to provide specialized rehabilitative services and encouragement that will assist the residents in achieving and maintaining their highest level of self-care, independence, and well being.

Roman Eagle's rehabilitation department utilizes the "It's Never Too Late" system which empowers individuals to connect, engage and enjoy life through the benefits of today's latest technology. This system allows activities adapted to each resident's unique abilities and interests, and has been shown to improve socialization and quality of life, enhance independence and increase cognitive stimulation.
