Arlington Neighborhood Village (ANV), located in Arlington VA, a suburb of Washington DC, is a volunteer driven community-based organization that provides the extra help seniors need to age in place safely. Volunteers provide direct services such as transportation to medical appointments and the grocery store, help with minor household needs, serve as a friendly visitor or walking buddy, and help with technology. The Village also strives to help members stay engaged through social and educational activities.

ANV is partnering with two affordable housing providers, Arlington Partnership for Affordable Housing and Culpepper Garden, to bring village services to their residents. ANV's goal is to help more lower-income and diverse seniors to age in place successfully by providing direct volunteer services, reducing social isolation, and strengthening our partners' existing volunteer programs.
